

During the Second World War almost 750,000 Australians, the majority of those who enlisted, served in the Australian Army. They fought in campaigns from the Mediterranean to South East Asia and New Guinea.

anzacportal.dva.gov.au

PEACE!

